

HAPI

Advanced Search Limits

Search Limit	What it does	Best for...	Tips
Publication Date	Searches for articles published between, before, or after certain dates.	Targeted searches. If you only want recently published articles, or if you want to get a sense of what types of articles were published during a certain period.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • From: 1989 To: 2000 - retrieves articles published from 1989 through 2000 • From: 1997 To: 1997 - retrieves articles published in 1997 • From: 2007 - retrieves articles published in 2007 and later • To: 1985 - retrieves articles published in 1985 and earlier
Limit by Language	Retrieves citations for articles in selected languages only.	Limiting your results to articles written in a specific language.	You can limit results to more than one language.
Limit to citations with full text	Retrieves citations for articles that have links to the online full text of the article.	When you need an article right away or the print version is unavailable at your institution.	Use with caution: your institution might have additional sources for full text that aren't listed in HAPI.
Limit to citations about US Hispanics/Latinos	Retrieves articles that contain information about this population group.	Finding articles that are specifically about the United States or about US-based authors and artists.	Includes people born in the US as well as people born in Latin America and living in the US.
Exclude Book Reviews	Removes citations to book reviews.	Useful when your results contain a large number of book reviews that you don't want to see.	HAPI stopped indexing book reviews in 2001.